

Constitution for the Education Building Development Officers Group (EBDOG)

Preamble

EBDOG has existed for many years and is currently made up of an informal group of Local Authority Education Officers and property professionals who are responsible for effective asset management of schools, children's services facilities and other premises within their own Local Authority.

Following discussions with the Department for Education and Skills regarding the future nature of ongoing consultative arrangements, it was agreed that where possible they would like to have a "single conversation" with Local Authorities.
